Verse 1

All on my own, searching for a reason to carry on

Deep inside feeling empty, no-one by my side

Searching for a home where my soul could find rest n`hope

Searching for a reason to live through every season

Shattered and ashamed over my own failures that come and go

Tripping over the same mistakes since a long time ago

Feeling low, not knowing which way to go

Hoping for a light, in my own darkness to feel alright

Chorus

Then i found you, gave me a brand new view

You are the freedom, giving me the right ignition

You are the one i run to when i`m alone

Giving me a reason to wake up and live another season

Verse 2

Your joy in my heart, true hope in my deepest part

In you i found love, the one sent from high above

Let me be yours, gladly your way is what i choose

Giving me a new start, i want to stay close to your heart
